To Whom It May Concern,

Kionte Brown was selected for an IT internship at Inland Power & Light during the summer of 2016. During this time, he and another intern worked on a mobile app using Visual Studio, Xamarin and the C# language. This platform was new to Kionte, but I was amazed at how quickly he was able adapt and have a small iOS app up and running. During this project we used an agile development process with one week sprints and meetings on progress to get feedback and define additional requirements. After these meetings Kionte immediately began researching and designing for the next sprint. His ability to grasp concepts after a short discussion shows the level of intellect he has and would bring to any future endeavor.

In addition to his technical knowledge and aptitude, Kionte was pleasant to be around and always ready to learn. Kionte demonstrated that can he work independently with little direction and also as a team member. I would highly recommend Kionte because his passion for technology and continued education will make him a valuable addition to any organization and team.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or further discussion.
